COACHING HISTORY

Auburn- Head	2024-
Texas A&M - Assist.	2017-24
Texas Tech (M)- Assist.	2016-17
Texas A&M (M)- Assist.	2015-16

Jordan Szabo will begin his first season at Auburn in 2024-25. He was named the head coach in May of 2024.

Szabo spent the previous seven seasons with the women's tennis program at his alma mater, Texas A&M. Szabo helped the Aggie women to three consecutive Southeastern Conference titles, four straight conference tournament final appearances and a national championship in 2024. He also played a key role in the development of A&M All-Americans Tatiana Makarova, Jayci Goldsmith and Carson Branstine, helping guide the trio to six combined ITA All-America designations in a two-year span.

In 2024, Szabo helped bring Texas A&M its first national championship after posting a 28-7 overall record en route to sharing the SEC regular season title and hosting NCAA opening rounds for the third consecutive season. The Aggies' Mary Stoiana and Lucciana Perez were named SEC Player of the Year and Freshman of the Year, respectively.

An exceptional recruiting coordinator under Weaver, Szabo played a key role in signing three top-three recruiting classes in each of A&M's last three cycles. The Aggies landed the No. 2 group in 2018 followed by yet another No. 2 class in 2021 according to the Tennis Recruiting Network spring rankings. The Aggies' signing class in 2022 took home the No. 3 ranking according to TRN and featured a pair of athletes with Universal Tennis Ratings above 10.40. He is responsible for signing seven blue-chip prospects, also adding five-star American players and impressive international talent.

Szabo was named the ITA Texas Region Assistant Coach of the Year and an ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year finalist in 2019. Following a program-record 33-2 campaign in 2022, Szabo was named the ITA Texas Region Assistant Coach of the Year for the second time in his career, eventually taking home the ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year award later in the offseason. In 2023, after another undefeated SEC regular season run, Szabo earned back-to-back ITA Texas Region Assistant Coach of the Year and ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year honors.

Prior to his time with the Texas A&M women's program, Szabo was an assistant coach with the Texas Tech men's tennis program for the 2016-17 season. He helped direct the Red Raiders to the 2017 Big 12 Tournament championship match as Texas Tech knocked off both No. 6 Baylor and No. 8 Oklahoma State before falling to No. 4 TCU. Szabo helped guide Jolan Callieau to All-America honors after reaching the NCAA Individual Championship Singles Round of 16, becoming only the fourth Red Raider to earn All-America status. The Red Raiders' doubles team of Bjorn Thomson and Connor Curry competed in the NCAA Doubles Championship and was No. 18 in the final doubles' rankings under Szabo's tutelage.

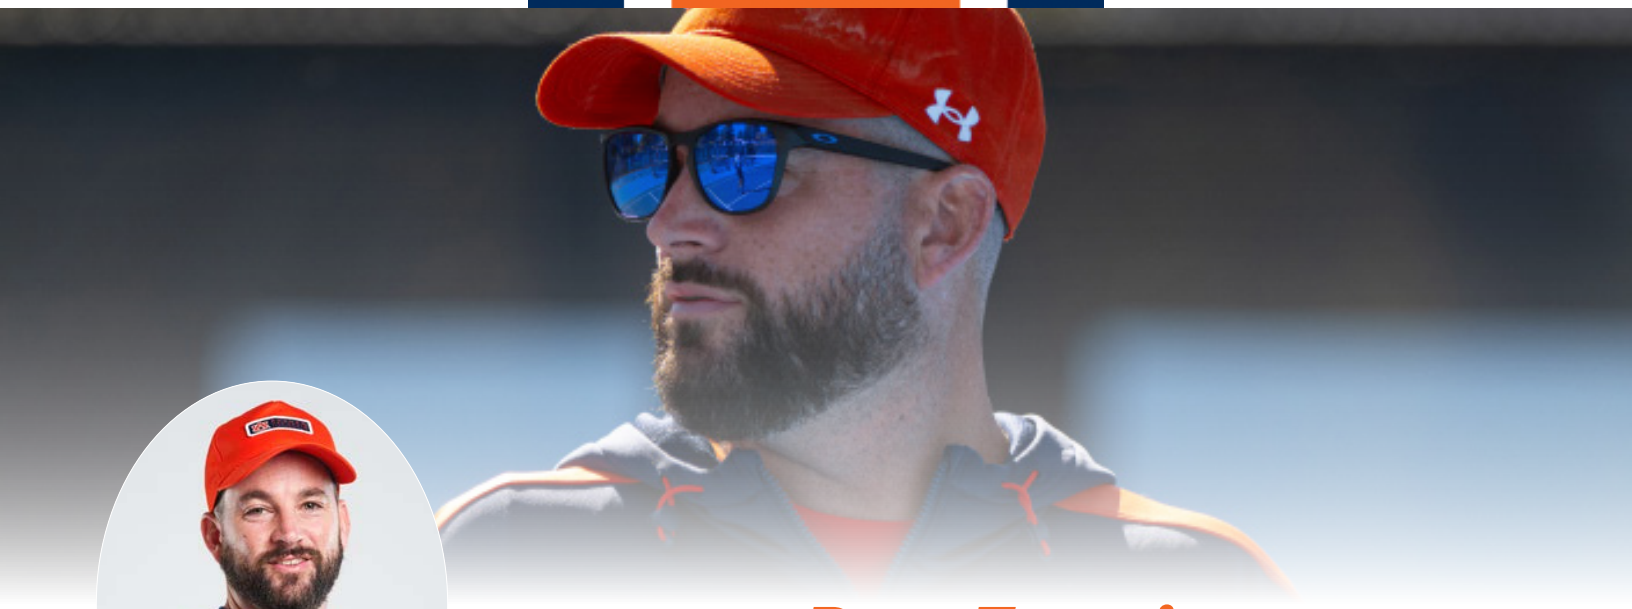
Szabo began his coaching career as a student assistant with the Texas A&M men's program during the 2015-16 season. That season, Texas A&M picked up 27 wins before dropping a 4-3 decision to Texas in the NCAA Tournament Second Round. He has worked alongside multiple Aggie men's tennis legends, including Austin Krajicek, who won the 2023 French Open Doubles Championship after making it to the finals a year earlier. Krajicek has been ranked by the ATP as high as world No. 1 which was first achieved in 2023.

While a student-athlete at Texas A&M, Szabo was a part of 82 dual match victories from 2012-15. The Aggies secured four NCAA Tournament trips during his career, highlighted by an NCAA Elite Eight appearance in 2015 and a NCAA Sweet 16 berth in 2013. A&M also captured the 2015 Southeastern Conference regular season championship in addition to the 2014 and 2015 SEC Tournament titles and 2013 SEC Western Division crown.

Szabo picked up 73 career doubles victories fueled by a trio of 20-win seasons and highlighted by a final No. 56 doubles ranking in 2015, qualifying for the NCAA Doubles championships in the process. Szabo tallied 56 singles wins for the Aggies over the course of his collegiate tenure, earning 2014 SEC All-Tournament Team honors.

A native of Bayswater, Victoria, Australia, Szabo's tennis career began at an early age, at local tennis courts located behind his home. His love for the game blossomed and he eventually began training with the national tennis academy through the Tennis Australia Federation. Szabo advanced to the Round of 16 in the Australian Open Juniors and finished his youth career rated as one of the top-five players in Australia.

A 2016 graduate of Texas A&M with a degree in sports management, Szabo is married to Grace Wright, a former member of the Texas A&M soccer team.



Pete Francis
Assistant Coach

Pete Francis was added to the Auburn women's tennis staff as an assistant coach in July of 2024.

Francis joined the Auburn staff after spending the 2023-24 season with the University of Oklahoma women's tennis program. In his one season with the Sooners, the team posted a 19-7 overall record and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Oklahoma finished the season ranked 19th in the nation.

Prior to that, he made coaching stops Virginia Tech, Arizona, Georgia State and Georgia Gwinnett College. He helped lead both the men's and women's teams at Georgia Gwinnett College to NAIA Championships and undefeated seasons in 2021 as an assistant coach.

From 2016-2019, Francis coached professionally for Sportime NY where he trained the top international junior tennis players. He also served as a travel coach for former world No. 14 Coco Vandeweghe, helping her to a singles quarterfinal finish at Wimbledon in 2015 as well as a doubles quarterfinal finish in 2016.

As a player, Francis was a top-10 junior player in the United Kingdom and graduated from Embry Riddle University in 2012 where he was a four-time NAIA All-American. The Hampshire, England native married the former Cici Jacob in 2024.

Christopher B. Roberts
University President

Christopher B. Roberts began his appointment as Auburn University's 21st president in May 2022.

President Roberts leads the university's four divisions, including Auburn's main campus with its more than 31,000 students and 5,500 faculty and staff, as well as Auburn University at Montgomery, the Alabama Cooperative Extension System and the Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station, a joint enterprise with Alabama A&M University. Roberts is an accomplished scholar who understands that research and teaching excellence, together with service and public engagement, are at the very heart of the state's R1 land-, sea- and space-grant institution. The R1 designation in the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education recognizes Auburn as a top-level research institution. As the university's CEO, Roberts marshals the institution's $1.54 billion annual budget and vast resources, while spearheading the university's strategic vision and advancing the Auburn's ever-growing research enterprise and economic development.

Prior to his presidency, Roberts served as the dean of Auburn's Samuel Ginn College of Engineering from 2012 to 2022. The college has more than 6,000 students and about 400 faculty and staff members. Roberts was a factor in the success of the university's Because This is Auburn — A Campaign for Auburn University, which raised $1.2 billion. Under Roberts' leadership, more than $357 million in donations to the college were made during and since the campaign.

He earned a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from the University of Missouri and master's and doctoral degrees in chemical engineering from the University of Notre Dame. He began his career at Auburn in 1994 as an assistant professor in the Department of Chemical Engineering and became department chair in 2003. He also served as the George E. and Dorothy Stafford Uthlaut Professor of Chemical Engineering. He has a strong record of scholarly and academic achievement in nanotechnology and synthetic fuels. Roberts has published close to 150 peer-reviewed journal articles and book chapters in leading chemical engineering, chemistry, materials and related journals and has given over 300 conference presentations, invited seminars and lectures. He has received 45 research grants and contracts from government agencies and corporations, such as the National Science Foundation, U.S. Department of Energy, U.S. Department of Defense, the USDA-Agriculture and Food Research Initiative and Boeing.

He has been honored with numerous awards for his accomplishments and contributions to the field of engineering. Some of those recognitions include the University of Notre Dame's Graduate School Distinguished Alumnus Award in 2015; the University of Missouri's Chemical Engineering Academy of Distinguished Alumni in 2014; and the National Organization of Black Chemists and Chemical Engineers President's Award for Fostering Minority Engagement in 2012 and the SEC Academic Consortium Faculty Achievement Award in 2012.

He and his wife, Tracy, have two children and enjoy cheering on Auburn's national championship-winning Division 1 athletics programs.

In his almost 30 years on the Plains, Roberts has come to value and cherish everything that makes the Auburn experience truly remarkable and distinctive. Through the university's successes, Auburn has earned the right to dream the biggest dreams. He said the university will strive to be "nothing short of excellent in all areas of our land-grant mission."

John Cohen
Athletics Director

John Cohen, who has more than two decades of experience as a coach and administrator in the Southeastern Conference, was named the 16th Director of Athletics at Auburn University on Oct. 31, 2022. Cohen spent the previous 14 years at Mississippi State in various capacities, most recently as the athletic director from 2016-22.

Cohen hit the ground running in his role as Auburn's athletic director as he immediately conducted an extensive search for a new head football coach and ultimately named Hugh Freeze to the role on Nov. 28, 2022, less than a month after Cohen arrived on the Plains.

Throughout Cohen's first 20 months at Auburn, athletics programs have achieved tremendous success, highlighted by men's golf winning the 2024 national championship, the 23rd national championship in the history of Auburn Athletics, as well as a pair of national runner-up finishes from men's track & field (2024) and equestrian (2023). Twenty of 21 programs have advanced to their respective NCAA postseason tournaments under Cohen's leadership.

Cohen has also played a major role in determining the final details of Plainsman Park's ongoing $30 million expansion and renovation project as well as the approval of the Jordan-Hare Stadium north endzone videoboard expansion, among other facilities projects.

Cohen's career in college athletics began as a baseball player at Mississippi State before entering the coaching ranks for 25 years. A two-time SEC Coach of the Year, he was named MSU's director of athletics on November 4, 2016, and led the Bulldog program to record-breaking success athletically, academically and in capital project campaigns.

Athletically, Cohen oversaw arguably the greatest era in Bulldog history, highlighted by a 2021 College World Series Championship – the school's first team national title in any sport. A total of five Bulldog programs turned in a program-best season with Cohen at the helm of the department, including softball (2022), baseball (2021), volleyball (2021), soccer (2018) and women's basketball (2017, 2018).

After beginning his stint as the head baseball coach at MSU in July 2008, Cohen's official role in administration began in 2016 when he assumed the role of associate athletic director in addition to head baseball coach.

As the head coach at MSU, Cohen led the Bulldogs to the 2013 College World Series finals, a SEC regular season championship and a SEC Tournament title. In the classroom, 133 of his players were named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll, including three straight SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year winners from 2013-15.

As a baseball player for the Bulldogs, Cohen was a key member of the 1989 SEC Champion and 1990 College World Series teams. He graduated from MSU with a degree in English and earned a master's degree in sports management from Missouri.

Prior to becoming the head coach at MSU, Cohen's coaching career included assistant coaching stops at Missouri (1992-97) and Florida (2002-03) and head coaching stops at Northwestern State (1998-2001) and Kentucky (2004-08).

Yarbrough Tennis Center

In 2005, Auburn University set out to make its men's and women's tennis teams the best programs in the country, starting with a state-of-the-art facility. In August 2006, construction began on Auburn's new facility. On Nov. 2 2007, the City of Auburn/Auburn University Yarbrough Tennis Center opened as a new phase in Auburn tennis.

The facility has 33,314-square feet of indoor space with six indoor courts, 12 outdoor courts with stadium seating and 16 clay courts. The Yarbrough Tennis Center also houses a pro shop, men's and women's locker rooms, concessions and a meeting area. All 12 courts are world-class lighted courts used for both competition and practice by the Auburn tennis teams.

As one of the best facilities in the Southeastern Conference, Auburn hosted the 2008 SEC women's tennis championships and the men's tournament in 2009 and 2023. The facility was named the 2015 Public Facility of the Year by the Professional Tennis Registry.

The City of Auburn/Auburn University Yarbrough Tennis Center replaced the Luther Young Tennis Complex, Auburn's tennis home since 1978.

About Auburn University

Auburn University has developed into one of the largest universities in the South, remaining in the educational forefront with its traditional blend of arts and applied science, and changing with the needs of today while living with a respect for the traditions and spirit that are Auburn.

Auburn was established in 1856 as the East Alabama Male College, 20 years after the city of Auburn's founding. In 1872, under the Morrill Act, the school became the first land-grant college in the South and was renamed the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama. In 1899 the name again was changed, to the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. Finally, in 1960 the name of the school was changed to Auburn University, a title more in keeping with its location, and expressing the varied academic programs and larger curriculum of a major university.

Auburn University today is a comprehensive land, sea and space grant institution -- among the few that hold that distinction -- helping fulfill the dreams of more than 25,000 students.

Auburn's beautiful main campus -- graced by greenery and open spaces and highlighted by historic Samford Park -- is made up of 90 major academic buildings spread across 1,843 acres. Buildings in the main campus area are within walking distance of each other. Residence halls are only a short walk from classrooms, dining and athletics facilities. Auburn is located in the southeastern United States in east-central Alabama about 30 miles from the Georgia border.

From 1861 to 1866 the college was closed because of the Civil War. The college had begun an affiliation with the Methodist Church before the war. Due to dire financial straits, the church transferred legal control of the institution to the state in 1872, making it the first land-grant college in the South to be established separate from the state university. It thus became the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama.

Women were admitted in 1892, making Auburn the oldest four-year, coeducational school in the state and the second-oldest in the Southeast.

In 1899, the name was again changed to the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. In 1960, the school officially acquired the name it has long been called and one more in keeping with its location, size, and mission -- Auburn University. The institution has experienced its greatest growth since World War II, and now has more than 250,000 graduates.

The War Eagle Story

According to legend, football and the cry "War Eagle" came to Auburn on the same day. It was February 20, 1892, the day Auburn and Georgia met in the first game of what is now the longest continuous football rivalry in the deep South.

In 1864 at the Battle of the Wilderness in Virginia during the American Civil War, an Auburn student fighting in the battle was wounded and when the armies retreated to their respective lines, he was left on the battlefield for dead. When he regained consciousness, there were only two living things as far as he could see: himself and a baby eagle.

The soldier took the wouded bird with him and nursed it back to health. When he returned to attend school at Auburn, the eagle came with him. The student ultimately became a member of the Auburn facilty and he was there that day in Atlanta's Piedmont Park when Auburn and Georgia met in what was later referred to as "The Game of the Century". As usual, the eagle- called War Eagle because of the circumstances under which he was found- was there with him.

When Auburn scored the first touchdown, the old eagle broke free from its master and began to soar above the field. Auburn fans looked skyward, saw the familiar animal, and shouted "War Eagle". According to witnesses, Auburn then began a steady march toward the end zone.

At the end of the game that Auburn won 10-0, the old eagle collapsed and died, having given his all in pursuit of victory for Auburn. War Eagle may have passed that day, but his spirit lives forever in the hearts of Auburn men and women.

Auburn's athletic teams are known as "The Auburn Tigers", but the battle cry of the Auburn faithful is "War Eagle". The battle cry is not a mascot or a nickname of the school.

Since the first War Eagle, there have been seven others throughout Auburn's history that have served as a symbol of the Auburn spirit and kept alive the legendary battle cry. Since 2000, an eagle has flown prior to all Auburn Football home games as tradition.
